A hard-bitten Private Eye, Murphy hails from New Orleans police department where he served under the celebrated Inspector Legrasse. Murphy is tough, straight talking and has a keen eye for facts and targets. Legrasse had a profound effect on Murphy. It wasn't just the art of detection Murphy learned from the Old Man.

Michelle Ricci is looking for two things: a quick score, and any news as to the whereabouts of her brother. Ever since that one Spring, when Angelo went to meet up with friends for a reunion in Kingsport, Ricci has made a conscious effort to live in the now and take what she can from it. Her older brother taught her well as they grew up together, hustling, scamming, pickpocketing and shoplifting.
